

To celebrate the birthday of super mario bros, I will build a google doodle made of characters and items from the mario video games. Each character or item corresponds to one of the letters in the Google logo and matches that letter's color. Additionally, each character or item will have a hover-state animation and sound that matches it's behavior in the video games.

- Mario (G) will jump in from one side and say a classic mario voice line
- Mushroom (o) will pop out of an item box with a sound effect
- Coin (o) will turn like a coin and make a coin sound effect
- Yoshi (g) will jump up from the bottom and say a classic yoshi voice line
- Piranha plant (l) will pop up from the tube with a sound effect
- Koopa shell (e) will start as a koopa and then turn into its shell with a sound effect

While the animation and sound effect are happening, you will briefly see the "Google" letter that the character corresponds to. It will be a fun, interactive, and colorful google doodle to celebrate this great game franchise!
